AUSTRIAN WINS
GREAT TENNIS
MATCH TODAY

Forest Hills, Aug. 15.—The final matches between the United States and Australia for the possession of the Davis cup were played on the courts of the West Side Tennis club here this afternoon.

More than 14,000 spectators gathered for the singles matches between R. N. Norris Williams II, and Norman E. Brooks and between Maurice E. McLoughlin and Anthony F. Wilding, which marked the closing contests of the thirteenth tournament for the Davis cup.

Interest in the opening match between Williams and Brooks was extremely keen, for Williams' defeat would give the cup to the island continent and make the McLoughlin-Wilding match to follow simply an exhibition.

Williams and Brooks began to warm up at 2:15. Williams was apparently very nervous, while Brooks appeared stolid and determined.

Brooks won the toss and opened by serving a love game.

Williams won the fourth game alone, his service and plating being too much for the veteran. Brooks proceeded to win the next three games and set by six to one by steady playing.

Brooks took the initiative at the opening of the second set, outplaying Williams in every department of the game and winning the set 6 to 2.

Williams won the third set, defeating Brooks ten games to eight.

The crowd attempted to swarm on the courts but were driven back while Brooks complained to the officials and sat holding his head in his hands on the sand box.

The crowd went frantic when Williams easily won the 17th game on service, Brooks being apparently very nervous.

Williams won the next game and the set.

In the fourth and what proved to be the final set, Williams appeared to feel the strain and in his efforts to play safe and sure softened up his game. As a result his strokes lost their speed and sting and when he did get them over the net Brooks was on top of them for a killing smash. As the points rolled up against him Williams went to pieces and the captain of the Australasian team clinched the set, match and Davis cup by winning 6 games to 3.

PRESIDENT PUTS BAN ON LOANS
FOR WAR

Suggestion that European Belligerents May Try to Get Money Here Disapproved. May Lend Funds to Neutral Nations.

Washington, Aug. 15.—President Wilson today formally disapproved of the plans of American bankers for floating loans in the United States for the benefit of belligerent countries of Europe, but expressed no objections to loans made to neutral countries.

A formal statement to this effect was prepared for issue through the state department later today. The mention of neutral countries in the expression from the American government was made because it is understood Switzerland is endeavoring to float a big loan in the United States.

The Swiss charge d'affaires had a conference with Secretary Bryan today but declined to discuss his views. The rejection of the proposal that American bankers be permitted to float a loan for belligerent countries resulted from an inquiry made by J. P. Morgan and Company, in which they stated that certain private interests had approached them concerning a possible loan to France.

The Morgan firm stated that no request had come from the French government and that the inquiry was made early to learn the attitude of the state department in case such action might follow.

BUSINESS COLLEGE ITEMS

Inquiries are pouring in from all parts of the southwest for literature of the school. One mail delivery Thursday, brought inquiries from five different states. There is every indication that nearly every county in the state will be represented in the school this year.

Mr. Leo Douglas, for the past three months bookkeeper in the penitentiary at Santa Fe, goes to Silver City as secretary to President Enloe, and register of the State Normal. Mr. William Rogers, a night school graduate, will fill the position vacated by Mr. Douglas.

Mr. Van Gieson is back from Santa Fe to assume his new duties with the Continental Oil company.

Seven A. B. C. graduates took the civil service examination today. Two more will take the departmental examination on August 25th. Before the A. B. C. added its civil service department, probably ninety per cent of the clerical positions in the southwest were filled by appointees from outside states, and very few New Mexico young people ever made the departmental list of eligibles for service in Washington, D. C., but during the past two years almost all the appointments in New Mexico and Arizona and many of the departmental appointments have been made from the New Mexico list which has been almost entirely composed of A. B. C. graduates.

An A. B. C. young man, who recently passed the civil service examination, was notified of an appointment at $1200 and asked whether he cared to apply. The government does not tender appointment until an applicant expresses his willingness to accept. The young man referred to has the matter under consideration.

Miss Jennie Long has accepted a position with the Interstate Casualty Company, one of Albuquerque's new and most promising concerns. Miss Isabel Benson, another A. B. C. graduate, is secretary to Mr. Jas. A. Blaney, general manager of this company.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the fall term September 8th, when the new year will begin. Mr. A. W. Wilhoite, the new principal of the business department, will assume charge of his work on September 1st. Mr. C. M. Drake has decided to engage in another line work.

A Californian takes issue with the statement that the South station in Boston is the busiest railroad terminal and shows that the distinction belongs to the Union ferry, at San Francisco, with 38,955,575 passengers through it annually.

OFFICERS KILLED IN BATTLE WITH BOLD BANDITS

Men Who Robbed Mine Paymaster in West Virginia of $15,000 do Deadly Execution when Persuaded.

Williamson, W. Va., Aug. 15.—Edward Mounts and Sanford Hatfield, members of a posse chasing the bandits who yesterday robbed a paymaster and killed three men at Alum Creek, W. Va., were killed today in a fight with the robbers at Gilbert Creek. One of the band was found wounded.

The posse of which Mounts and Hatfield were members had followed the gang through the mountains all night and came up with them this morning. The bandits opened fire with deadly effect and the posse replied.

One bandit was wounded, but his comrades assisted him to escape.

Large forces have been searching the mountains for the gang since the robbery at Alum Creek.

Wood from Gilbert Creek, this afternoon said the posse had again come up with the bandits and the fighting continued. Three more of the posse have been wounded and one bandit captured.

AUTO BANDITS COMMIT
MURDER IN ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Aug. 15.—F. H. Soller, paymaster of the St. Louis Refrigerating and Cold Storage company, was shot and killed by robbers here today.

The robbers escaped in an automobile with a bag of payroll money.

Finger Print Test Used.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—The photographs of finger prints taken in the office where Edward P. Amory was killed last Wednesday showed that the fingerprints were too confused to serve for comparison with those of all of Thompson, the stenographer, who is being held in connection with the killing, it was said today.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM
ATTRACTED MANY APPLICANTS

Ambitious Young Men and Women Eager to Get on Uncle Sam's Pay Roll Stood Severe Test at Federal Building Today.

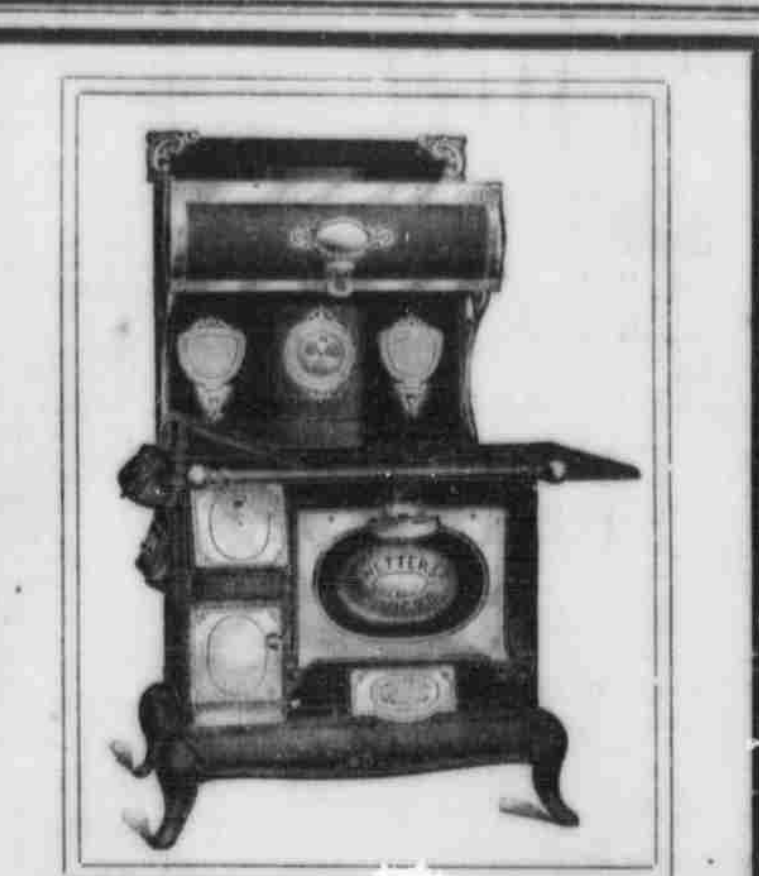

Over in the court room of the federal building this morning H. B. Hammond, chief clerk in the local forestry office and conductor of civil service examinations, doled out examination papers to seven eager, ambitious applicants for appointment to their Uncle Sam's semi-monthly pay roll. Every one of the young people were Albuquerqueans, either by nativity or adoption. Six young ladies, Anna Myers, Norine Switzer, Ida Parke, Jennie Long, Fanna Dunn, and Clara Wilson and one young man, William Horsfield, took the test for which they have been working strenuously for several months. The entire group was coached for the examination in the civil service department of the Albuquerque Business college.

The civil service commission prefers making appointments to positions in the field service (positions outside Washington, D. C.) from the eligible list of the state where the vacancy occurs, but up to a few years ago, very few New Mexico young people qualified for these appointments; however, since the Albuquerque Business college added its special civil service department, graduates from this department have been successful in passing the examinations and receiving appointment. Government officials have found it possible to fill nearly all the clerical appointments with New Mexico eligibles.

Summer
by the Great Lakes

Chicago is the gateway to the lake region. From here radiate most of the important water trips. You can make a circle of the Great Lakes resorts, including those of Wisconsin, Northern Michigan, and Georgian Bay. Then visit Buffalo and Niagara Falls, the Berkshires of New England and the Adirondacks of New York, with a few days' stop at Atlantic City. The low summer tourist fares on the Santa Fe bring this trip within the reach of all.

I have some interesting illustrated travel-books for you, and will be glad to furnish sample itinerary.

Remember that best service to Chicago, the Great Lakes gateway, is via the Santa Fe.
